

ドイツと広げる研究国際ネットワーク

Enhance your international network with Germany

Science and research are driven by curiosity and encounters with the new and unknown. The exchange of ideas and arguments is essential to generate new knowledge and innovation. This means a career in science and research can lead you to foreign countries and new frontiers, can get you in contact with other cultures, and can keep you always inspired.

If you want to be part of a global research community and work with colleagues from all over the world on new solutions for humanity on local, regional and global level, you should try to enhance your international network in Germany and with Germany.

As the biggest research funding organisation in Europe the German Research Foundation is interested in promoting internationalisation, collaboration between researchers at home and abroad, and mobility of researchers to get the best worldwide into contact with each other.

The German Academic Exchange Service is the organisation of German universities and their student bodies devoted to internationalising the academic and scientific research system. DAAD scholarship programmes enable students, researchers and teaching staff to take advantage of the best study and research opportunities available.
