This event is based on the research project "Formation of 'Inclusive Culture' in Universities: Understanding Gender Consciousness and the Possibility of Reform" (Grant-in-Aid for Scientific Research 22K18555), which is currently being conducted by Kobe University's Gender Equality Office. This workshop is especially designed to survey faculty members' awareness regarding the percentage and status of female faculty members.

Director Tsuyoshi Shoji is coming to screen his film "The Fish with One Sleeve" (2021), followed by a lecture on the situation of women and minorities in the working environment and the importance of policies that support women's and minorities' activities. What exactly are the concepts, measures, and practices that need to be implemented in the pursuit of an "Inclusive Culture?"

Lecturer: film director Tsuyoshi Shoji

Synopsis:

Hikari, a transgender woman, lives alone in Tokyo where she works as a company employee. Despite being well surrounded by her friend Chiaki, a transgender woman as well, and her boss, Tsuji, Hikari cannot help but feeling a wall between her and the world. One day, she has to go to her home town for work. Her past comes back to her. Hikari decides to introduce her present self to her former highschool classmate, Kei Kubo. She muster up her courage and reach out to him, but...
