

Kobe Career Up Café 2014

Experiences and opinions from foreign families in working and living their ways in diverse societies.

Abstract

My wife and I both work in University and are both foreigners, living in Japan, far from any of our relatives. We have two children. In this presentation, I will share our experience, working and living our way in the Japanese society. I will also talk about the experiences of other people, in France and in Japan (Japan/other country mixed couples). In any case, motivation, management skills and some sacrifices are necessary. But to facilitate the process, the society could also make changes to adapt to our ever-changing way of life.

Bernard Gelloz

Designated associate professor,
Graduated School of Engineering
Nagoya University

- PhD. In Physics, Fourier University, Grenoble, France (1997)
- Habilitation in Physics, Fourier University, Grenoble, France (2007)
- Postdoctoral position at Tokyo University Agriculture & Technology
- Postdoctoral position at RIKEN
- Research Associate and Assistant Professor at Tokyo University Agriculture & Technology
- Designated Associate Professor at Nagoya University

Tue, November 18, 2014
12:15pm - 13:15pm

Place:Chobo-kan 2F

Centennial Hall

LANS
Box

Takikawa
Memorial Hall

Chobo-kan

• FREE LUNCH

- Advanced registration is required Deadline of application : October 24

Please contact Assistant professor AOKI Kanna (Coordinator) by email to the following address, if you will join the seminar.

- Contact

AOKI Kanna (Graduate School of Engineering)

e-mail:kanna.aoki@eedept.kobe-u.ac.jp

